

Programs of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE)

Older adults who participate in Programs of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) have access to an interdisciplinary team of health and social services professionals in a managed care plan that integrates preventive, acute, and long-term services. Participants must be age 55 years or older, reside in the PACE organization’s service area, and be able to live safely in the community. People enrolled in PACE generally require routine assistance with activities of daily living (ADLs), the fundamental skills required to live independently such as dressing, bathing, transferring, toileting, eating or walking.

US SIZE & REACH

- 55,000 ^[1] participants
- 272 PACE Centers ^[2]

DEMOGRAPHICS OF RESIDENTS ^[3]

PACE PLAN OPERATIONS

- PACE providers must enter into a three-way agreement with the state Medicaid agency and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).
- PACE Centers, which serve as the hub for the PACE services delivered across a variety of settings, include primary care clinics and spaces for socialization.

FINANCIAL PROFILE

Who Pays for Care? ^[4]

- 90% Dually eligible for Medicaid and Medicare
- 9% Medicaid only
- 1% Pay a premium (Medicare-only or other)